

TP ICAP appoints Holden Sibley as Managing Director and Head of FX Hub

25 June 2020 – London:

TP ICAP, the world's largest interdealer broker, today announces the appointment of Holden Sibley as Managing Director and Head of FX Hub, with an ambition in the medium term to provide a single seamless offering for clients to access the full suite of TP ICAP's FX solutions.

In what is a newly-created role, Holden will be responsible for growing the pipeline of electronic solutions and coordinating their delivery to enhance the firm's overall FX capabilities across voice, hybrid, and pure electronic channels. Based in New York, Holden's remit is global and covers both the Tullett Prebon and ICAP brands.

Holden joins TP ICAP from Barclays Investment Bank, where he spent the last 17 years working in various electronic product and distribution roles. His most recent position was as Managing Director and Head of Americas eFX distribution within the macro division.

Holden Sibley said: "What drew me to TP ICAP was the combination of the firm's deep liquidity, strong relationships and the opportunity to participate in driving further evolution in FX markets. The firm has an established foundation in delivering technology platforms and operating venues, and I want to be part of its commitment to continue growing its electronic presence to deliver a range of solutions to meet client needs."

John Abularrage, CEO of TP ICAP's Global Broking business said: "Holden's appointment reinforces the core strength and technical capabilities of our leadership team. Our electronification strategy will benefit our entire FX franchise across products and execution methods, and Holden will play an instrumental role in delivering this."
