Fundación Excepcionales supports and champions children with Down syndrome, from birth, through the schooling system, providing comprehensive development programmes, committed to the inclusion of children and young people with Down syndrome into mainstream education, in Chile. Four ICAP Charity Days, via the Santiago Office, have funded Fundación Excepcionales over four years. As a result, the Foundation has improved its infrastructure, providing better facilities for 50 children immediately, and more in the long term, with three full scholarships awarded.

"Thanks to ICAP we have been able to improve our facilities for kids with Down syndrome, and have more scholarships."

One small charity funded was United for Colombia, with an income of less than £100,000. The four donations from the Bogota Office provided 10 landmine survivors with prosthetic limbs. Additionally, during the pandemic, the foundation supported 115 of its most vulnerable people.

"The support of ICAP Charity Day allows United for Colombia to ensure the prosthetic treatments to its landmine survivors' beneficiaries."

Four donations from the Bogota office, since 2013, have supported the charity in projects focused on transforming communities and promoting the construction of a social fabric, especially with children, adolescents and women from vulnerable sectors.

"We develop skills for life in children, young people and their parents through play, sports and female empowerment."

ICAP Charity Day support has benefitted 70 individuals.

Three ICAP Charity Day donations from the Mexico office enabled Casa Hogar Alegria to support vulnerable girls with a home and education. It currently shelters 200 beneficiaries in four locations.

The Mexico office has made six donations to this school which is dedicated to supporting local girls and their families, especially those with limited resources. Four full scholarships have been funded by ICAP Charity Days.

"When you give education to a rural girl, you change the student and her family's life for generations."

Casa do Zezinho has supported the Parque Santo Antonio community for 22 years. This region has the highest rate of violence in the city of São Paulo. Support from ICAP Charity Days has enabled the charity to continue to operate its projects and ultimately expand its programme reach supporting the local community. Specifically, funds from the ICAP Charity Day have enabled the charity's house to receive more than 1,000 at-risk young people over one year, achieving its goal to reach more beneficiaries requiring help.
